the latent brand book defines the foundation of the studio. it ensures every element — from the mark to colour to typography — works together as one cohesive system across every touchpoint.

about

latent studio is an ai-native visual studio based in amman, working with brands anywhere. we produce campaign-grade brand imagery — the kind that used to require a photographer, a stylist, a location, a retoucher and six weeks — and we produce it in days.

we sell ongoing visual production, on retainer. not one-off files: a permanent creative department that sits outside your payroll.

we are not a filter, a prompt service or a cheap alternative to a photographer. we are the studio you hire when the image has to carry the brand.

every brand already contains its best image. it just hasn't been rendered yet. we render it.

ai is the tool. taste is the craft. we say "ai" out loud, we never apologise for it, and we never hide it.

the principles

three principles. no exceptions. every asset that leaves the studio is checked against all three, and any asset that fails one does not ship.

01 — restraint · الاختزال

we remove until only the essential remains. one subject per frame, one idea per post, one accent colour per campaign.

02 — story before product · القصة قبل المنتج

every frame earns attention before it asks for it. the product is never the first thing the eye lands on.

03 — craft in every frame · الحرفة بكل لقطة generation is the first ten percent. direction, selection, colour, grain, crop and the ruthless discard of the merely good — that is the work.

logo suite

the primary logo is a typographic wordmark built around the word latent in lowercase. the schwa — ə — replaces the "e": the most common vowel sound in human speech, and the one nobody notices. present everywhere, seen nowhere. this wordmark is the main identifier and should be used most often across the brand.

the schwa replaces the "e" — a letter, not an icon

always lowercase.

no tagline is ever
locked to the wordmark

latent

the icon is the schwa on its own. it is our symbol, our avatar, our signature and our sign-off — it closes every caption. minimum size 24 px on screen, 8 mm in print.

the logo colourways bring the wordmark and the icon into the three-colour system. four colourways, nothing else: ink on ivory, ivory on ink, marrow on ivory, ink on marrow.

clear space on all sides equals the height of the schwa's counter — the enclosed space inside the ə. nothing enters that zone. the wordmark is never stretched, rotated, outlined, given a gradient or a shadow, recoloured outside the system, or placed on a busy photograph without a scrim.

the system is three colours; there is no fourth. working ratio 90 / 9 / 1: ninety percent ink or ivory, nine percent the other, one percent marrow. marrow is a punctuation mark, not a fill — one element per layout. a single character set in marrow on a page is the entire campaign.

generated imagery lives in a warm, desaturated register. these are image tones, not brand colours: skin is warm, never orange; blacks are soft, never crushed; highlights roll off, never clip.

A close-up photograph of a person's hand holding a small, white, rectangular card. The card is being held over the breast pocket of a dark grey, textured suit jacket. The card has the word "latent" printed on it in a bold, black, sans-serif font. The hand is light-skinned and has short, manicured nails. The suit jacket is made of a dark, textured fabric, possibly wool or a similar material. A brown, textured pocket square is visible peeking out from the pocket. The lighting is soft and directional, coming from the upper left, casting gentle shadows on the hand and the jacket. The overall composition is clean and professional, with a focus on the word "latent" and the formal attire.

A photograph of three white, rectangular books stacked on a dark green, marbled surface. The top book is slightly offset to the right, revealing the edges of the two books underneath. The word 'latent' is printed in a large, bold, black sans-serif font on the front cover of the top book. Below it, in a smaller, lowercase, black sans-serif font, are the words 'brand book'. The lighting is soft, coming from the upper left, creating subtle shadows and highlighting the texture of the paper and the marble.
